

Ever since Isabel told me all about Chile my belly has been rumbling...I wish I could go to Chile. But how can I get there? It is impossible for dogs to fly. Embark on a journey over air and land in Monica Lizama's exciting new children's story, All Paws to Chile, a tale positively bursting with globe-trotting adventures! Meet Blotch, an Australian Jack Russell dog whose greatest happiness is hanging out with his owner, eleven-year-old Isabel. This plucky pup expertly narrates the various exploits they embark upon during their quest to find the orphaned Isabel a home. Blotch and Isabel trek to the ends of the earth, from Chile to Antarctica and beyond. But when Blotch gets separated from his owner, it will take a lot of courage and some helpful friends to bring him home. Lizama expertly crafts a story full of colorful characters who introduce kids to the geographical wonders of our giant world in a fun new way. Ideal for kids ages eight to twelve, or even just kids at heart, All Paws to Chile's vivid storytelling and loveable characters will have readers begging to join Blotch and Isabel on their adventures around the globe!
