

Whos Listening?: Erase the negative inner talk to achieve abundance

Messages for humanity have been documented throughout the centuries in various spiritual, religious and philosophy texts on how to apply the law of attraction and the power of positive thought to achieve health, wealth and happiness. Throughout Whos Listening? Author Laura Williams uses straightforward aphorisms and quotes to provide unique and thought-provoking insights on overcoming negative mindsets and changing your life for the positive. What you think, what you say and how you deal with the daily challenges that life throws your way is the primary contributor to the energy you attract. Your conscious mind and thought process are extremely powerful, affecting your physical world in tangible ways. Your subconscious mind is the spirit within you that communicates with the universe to manifest what you call to mind on any given day, whether positive or negative. Your conscious and subconscious minds are battling opposing thoughts and the most powerful will win. As you read Whos Listening? you will become keenly aware of your thought-life and the words that run through your mind, and understand how and why you attract either positive or negative people and situations. Above all, you will learn how to reverse the negative energy that surrounds you to create a positive and abundant life. Connecting with your inner spirit is the secret to fighting the demons you face daily, which allow negative thoughts and words to enter your conscious mind. When you apply the principles taught in this book, you will start to eliminate the negative inner self-talk that is obstructing and holding you back from achieving the results you desire in life. And the more you apply these principles, the greater your opportunity will be to re-write the script in your life!
