Not illustrated. 1895 Excerpt: ... summer calm, Warm, tender, restful, sweet with woodland balm, Came to him, like some mother-hallowed psalm To the tired grinder at the noisy wheel Of labor, winding off from memorys reel A golden thread of music. The Pennsylvania Pilgrim. 6 John Huss, 1373; John Flaxman, 1755. The path of life we walk to-day Is strange as that the Hebrews trod; We need the shadowing rock, as they,--We need, like them, the guides of God. God send His angels, Cloud and Fire, To lead us oer the desert sand! God give our hearts their long desire, His shadow in a weary land! the Rock In El Ghor. Good-by to pain and care! I take Mine ease to-day: Here where these sunny waters break, And ripples this keen breeze, I shake All burdens from the heart, all weary thoughts away. I draw a freer breath--I seem Like all I see--Waves in the sun--the white-winged gleam Of sea-birds in the slanting beam--And far-off sails which flit before the south-wind free. Hampton Beach. 8 Fitz-Greene Halleck, 1790. In common ways, with common men, He served his race and time As well as if his clerkly pen Had never danced to rhyme. If, in the thronged and noisy mart, The Muses found their son, Could any say his tuneful art A duty left undone? Fitz-green Halleck. 9 Henry Hallam, 1777. And prayer is made, and praise is given, By all things near and far; The ocean looketh up to heaven, And mirrors every star. Its waves are kneeling on the strand, As kneels the human knee, Their white locks bowing to the sand, The priesthood of the sea! They pour their glittering treasures forth, Their gifts of pearl they bring, And all the listening hills of earth Take up the song they sing. The Worship Of Nature. IO John

Calvin, 1509; Robert Chambers, 1802. I
