

The Life and Visions of the Prophet Ezekiel: With Comments and Commentary

Thank you for reading my work. You are reading the book of Ezekiel the Prophet and my accompanying remarks, and I do not for one second believe God expects anyone to be bored or confused with His work, so let us have a little fun while we learn. I do not consider myself a Bible expert by any means. I am simply a man who for many years has read and studied the Bible and the writings of others and believed in the Trinity. Most of what I have read I have found rich in facts but very boring to read which caused in me at least a lack of interest. My effort here is to make this as interesting as possible and at the same time have you the reader learn as we go. You will be reading (1) chapter at a time with my explanation (Not in detail) of what the chapter is about. I have been writing for over (50) years and I know from experience that we writers more often than not take ourselves far too seriously. In short, I believe in a little humor. Some time ago it came to me to Do the Bible. I started it at that time and I was blessed with hundreds of friends (This was on Facebook) from around the world who joined the ten-minute reading each day, then, it later came to me to Put it on a web-site. This web site is now in operation and called Its all about Faith Every home a Church or Bible Study with Bernard Albertson you will find it at this address. bernardalbertson.com. Once again I have been blessed with readers from all over the world who join me each day for the ten-minute study. Which thrills me to no end. You have in your hands about the same study we do each morning along with the remarks and explanation I give for each chapter of the day. This is most usually preceded by some personal remark of mine and I do this because I am usually sitting in my shorts drinking coffee and speaking to friends (you). I believe each person should read and learn for themselves and for this reason I do not explain each verse but give an overview of the entire chapter. Over the years my research books and the pages therein have taken me many beautiful, colorful, and violent places. They have shown me both the generosity and cruelty of man and his ways. The Bibles I have used for this writing have been King James, New American Standard, and New International Version. All of which have been of great help in my understanding of the Old Testament history. My research takes me deep into the thoughts and remarks of those experts who write about their advanced knowledge of the mind thought of those of whom we read. I use this learning to help you the readers understand what the Bible says in the words of the scribes who wrote it, and though chosen by God for this purpose these Prophets and scribes were down to earth folks who were in captivity along with everyone else.
