

Over the Edge Into Truth

A life-changing journey begins with a first step. For me, it began with a 4 1/2 story fall. Paul Jensen was living the American dream... or so he thought. He had a lucrative business career, a beautiful wife, healthy kids, and an exceptionally strong body and mind. From all outward appearances he had it made. But the dream was shattered the day his life went over the edge in Joshua Tree National Park. The shocking circumstances that led up to a 45 foot fall and his miraculous recovery after landing headfirst on the rocks below obliterated Paul's confident perspective on life, and allowed him to see that the world he had carefully constructed was built on illusion. Faced with the stark reality he had been living a lie, he wandered in fear before truth became revealed. In these pages, you'll join Jensen on a stunning journey of self-discovery. From the glitter of Beverly Hills and into the darkest corners of the human soul, you'll break through the artificial barrier we've constructed between physical and spiritual realities, and then seize the freedom from fear that brings intense hope, focus, and true strength to life. Take a new leap of faith today. Discover liberation from the lie and embrace a graphic new sense of spiritual peace and purpose when you step Over the Edge Into Truth.
